

To describe feelings in writing

Imagine you are a Viking about to invade Britain. What are you wearing, and how are you feeling?

What are you excited about, and what might you be worried about?

I am ready for the invasion. I am wearing...

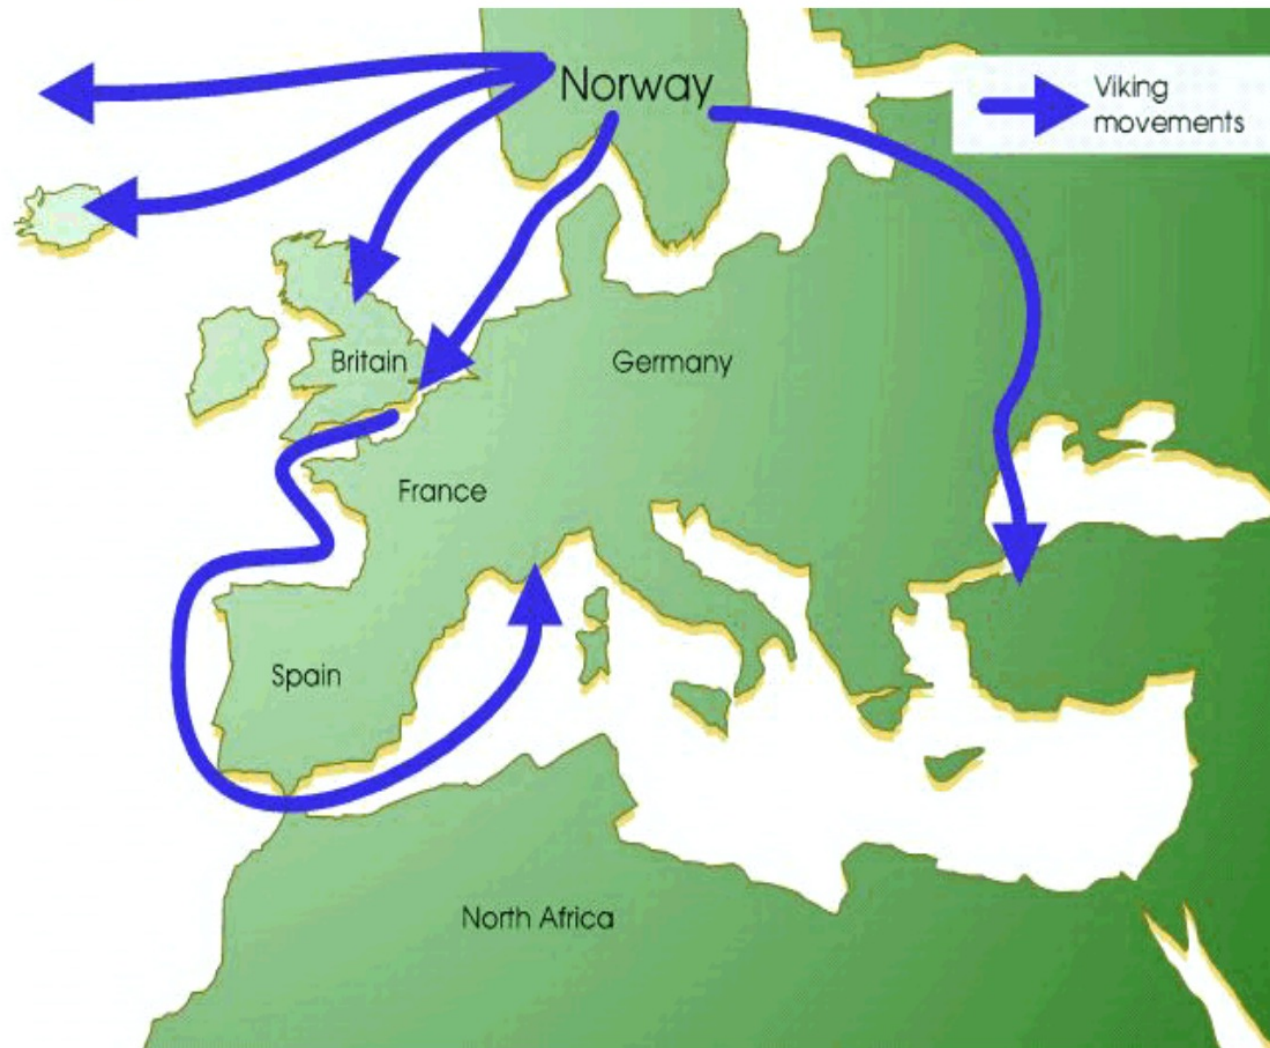

I feel...

I am looking forward to...

However, I am worried about...

What were some of the reasons why the vikings left their homes?

Imagine you are a Viking about to invade Britain.
How might you be feeling?

excited

my knees
were shaking

I am ready for the invasion, I am wearing...

i am ready to invade i feel nervous and my legs a shaking however i hope that we will win the battle and i am looking forward to the new farmland to help i have my heavy sharp devastating axe and wear my tough leather armour and large shield when we land we will all scream ahhhhh to make us feel strong i ask myself will this be an easy fight
